VISITING PRIEST THIS WEEKEND

Today we welcome Father Bernard Olszewski who will speak at all the Masses on behalf of Cross Catholic Outreach which was founded to create a meaningful link between parishes in America and the priests and Nuns working overseas in the Caribbean, Asia Africa, Central and South America. It gives us an opportunity to aid in delivering food, shelter and hope for the poorest of the poor. This is in keeping with the works of mercy which we are being urged to practice during this year of mercy. Please be generous to Father's appeal. Brochures will be provided if you wish to support this worthy Catholic ministry.

STATEMENTS of contributions to the parish for 2015 were mailed out. If you did not receive one and are in need of it for tax purposes, please call the office 508-885-3111.

We still need three more prayer partners. If you wish to be part of this special ministry to our children call Judi at 508 – 885 – 3111 Ext 105 and she will give you more details.

Parish update.....in case you missed it last week

We received a check from the insurance company for the damage done from the fire. Construction has begun on repairing the bathroom that was destroyed by the fire. As a result of this, we have discovered that the pipes in the building are very old and that some are not compatible with the new fixtures which we need to use. We also had a frozen pipe last week that had to be repaired. So as always there is more work to be done than was planned. At the same time, this is also a blessing. To find these problems when the walls and floor are already ripped up make it easier to do this repair job which would have had to be done sooner or later. Again God has taken care of us.

CATHOLIC MEN'S CONFERENCE will be held this year on Saturday, March 12 at the DCU Center. As usual, a fine array of speakers has been assembled. There will be an opportunity for the sacrament of Reconciliation and Mass with Bishop McManus. Save the date. More details to follow..

Pastor's Notes:

The greatest of these is Love;

Last week's second reading spoke about the various gifts given to the members of the body of Christ. This week's second reading continues that theme by telling what underlies all the other gifts, namely the gift of love. When we hear this reading proclaimed, most of us think of a wedding that we may have attended. Many couples choose this reading for their special day. But love as a gift of God is not given only to married people nor is it expressed only in the sacrament of marriage. Love needs to be the source of everything we do. The love of which St. Paul speaks is sacrificial love. It is the love which God our Father showed in sending His Son Jesus to be one of us, to redeem us and the take away our sins. It is the gift which Jesus made real each time He stopped to touch a hurting person or to listen to the cries of the poor or the needs of someone who came to Him. It is the gift that reached its fullest expression in His death on the Cross and his rising from the dead. It is the love that moves men like our guest preacher today to minister to those in need, which strengthens those who are struggling not to give up, which gives the deepest meaning to the everyday works we do to serve the needs of one another. When Paul said that the greatest of all gifts is love, he knew what he was saying. Take his advice. Strive for the greatest gift.

Year of mercy observance

Some people have asked when the church is open and when there are opportunities for confession.

The church is open every day from 7:30 am until 8:00 pm

The Holy Door is located to your left as you enter the vestibule of the church.

Confessions are available on Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:00 pm and also at other times by appointment. Call Fr. Jim.

The Year of Mercy prayer will be recited at the end of all Masses beginning this weekend. You will find it inside the back cover of the Breaking Bread books.

There will be other special activities announced as we get to Lent.
